

The Town Planner plans, organizes, and participates in the town's overall planning and community development including the current and long-range planning, zoning administration, and historic preservation. He is responsible for the oversight of the Unified Development Ordinance as it relates to the building of new construction and modifications of existing construction by residents and businesses within the Town of Edenton. He also is the staff liaison to various town boards and commissions.

For Major Special Use Permits, Minor Special Use Permits, Variance Applications, and any other permits or applications not found on this site, please contact the Town Planner for guidance on how to proceed. Permits such as these typically require input or feedback from the Town Planner.
