

CHOWAN COUNTY North Carolina

EDENTON North Carolina

Bulletin #2
 Press Release
 Hurricane Matthew
 10/05/16 1:45pm
 Submitted by Cordell Palmer
 Chowan County EM Coordinator

County Officials participated in a conference call with the State EOC today at noon

At 2:00pm the National Hurricane Center has Hurricane Matthew located at 21.8N 75.2 W Moving North at 12mph. Max Sustained winds 120mph

Due to the change in forecast track, Chowan County is not predicted to experience tropical storm or hurricane force winds at this time. As of 2:00pm the National Weather Service anticipates that Chowan County will receive less than 1" of rain from this storm. Any effects are still days away and Emergency Management Officials will continue to monitor the track of this storm.

Chowan County is not currently under any watches or warnings.

The following actions were taken:

1. Control Group met at noon today, no additional preparatory actions are planned, storm monitoring will continue.
2. No evacuations are anticipated for Chowan County or Town of Edenton at this time.
3. Public safety and preparedness information is also posted on the following websites as follows
 Emergency Preparedness Information: www.readync.org
4. Additional information may be found:
 The Chowan County website www.chowancounty-nc.gov
 The Town of Edenton website www.townofedenton.com/
5. Chowan County EOC is currently NOT activated