

Northeastern Regional Airport (IATA: EDE, ICAO: KEDE, FAA LID: EDE) is a public use airport in Chowan County. It is owned by the Town of Edenton and located three nautical miles (6 km) southeast of downtown. The airport is categorized as a general aviation facility. The Airport Manager, Harry Davis, oversees the day-to-day operations while also working with an Airport Commission board. The airport is staffed by part-time employees.

The airport was first built by the U.S. Navy during World War II as Marine Corps Air Station Edenton, before becoming Naval Auxiliary Air Station Edenton, before becoming a civilian airport. Many of the old military buildings on the property now serve civilian or commercial purposes.

For Enterprise rentals, visit enterprise.com/GA and enter "EDE" as the Airport Code, along with the dates.

For private individuals offering flight lessons, contact the airport manager.

New Hangar Project

The Town of Edenton and Northeastern Regional Airport are currently embarking upon a project to construct new taxi lanes and a new tee-hangar. This tee-hangar may range from eight to twelve spaces, depending on final design. We hope this project will be complete by mid-2025.

To inquire about renting spaces in the tee-hangar, visit the airport and speak to the manager, Harry Davis, or call him at (252) 217-4975.

See here for a copy of the Hangar Lease Policy and Waitlist (waitlist must be signed in-person at the airport).
